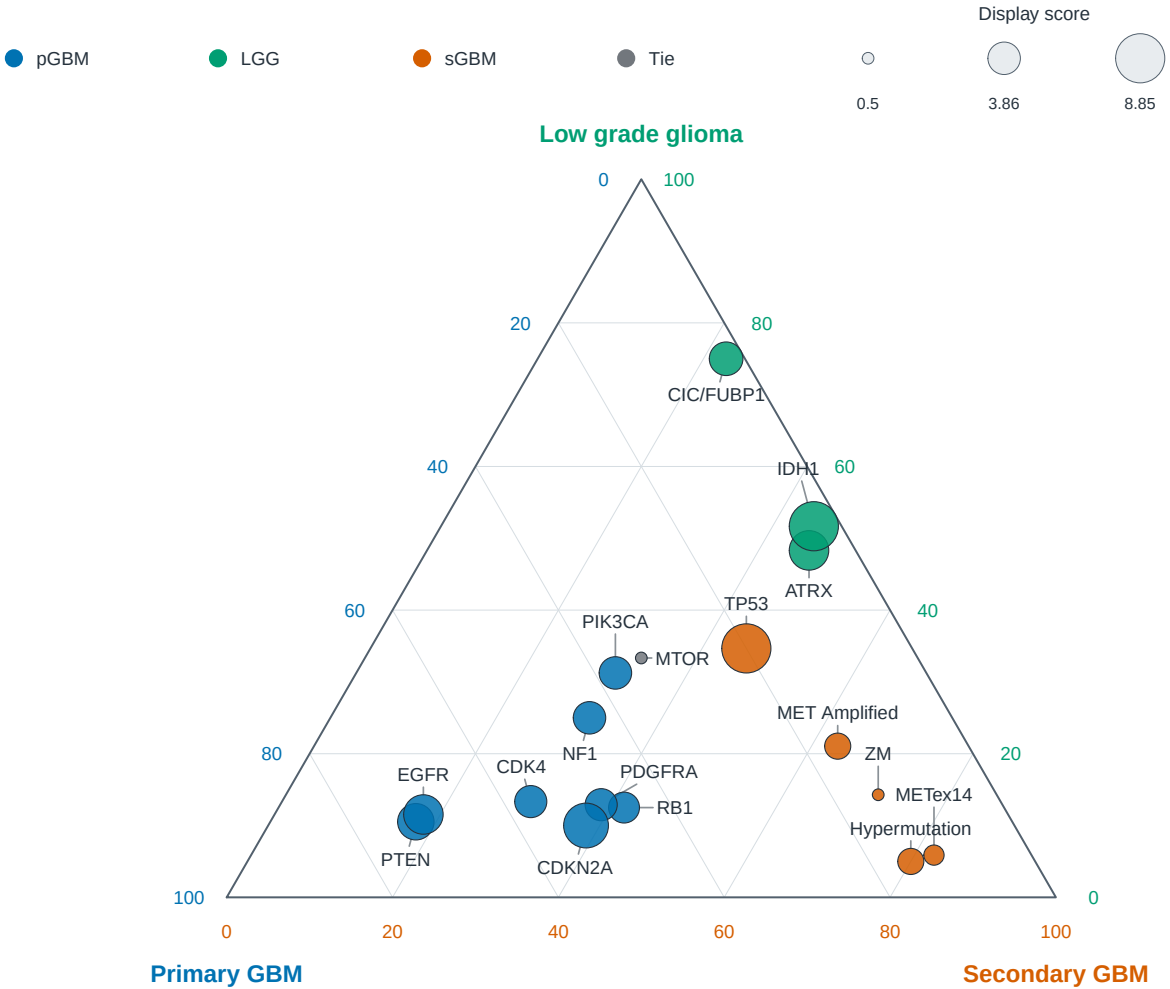
Relative subtype alteration frequencies

Color: largest normalized component; axes in percent; ties gray



Position = each supplied subtype frequency / sum of its three subtype frequencies.
Circle area = supplied tutorial display score; it is not a raw alteration frequency.
Raw frequencies and size inputs are retained in the exported table; no significance test.